OUTSTANDING CORPORATION PHILANTHROPIST

BANK OF AMERICA

Bank of America has been a steady partner to Southern Arizona nonprofits for decades. In the past six years alone, the company has invested $4.5 million in Tucson organizations through grants, sponsorships, and other community support.

That giving reaches across the region's most pressing needs: hunger relief, workforce development, housing stability, affordable childcare, education, and accessible healthcare. It also sustains the arts and culture that make Tucson home. Partners include the Community Food Bank of Southern Arizona, Pima Community College, Youth On Their Own, Family Housing Resources, Habitat for Humanity Tucson, the YMCA of Southern Arizona, Reid Park Zoo, and the Tucson Museum of Art.

Bank of America also shows up when the need is urgent. During COVID-19, its funding helped the Community Food Bank increase meal deliveries to homebound neighbors by 50%.

Local leaders Adriana Kong Romero, President of Bank of America Tucson, and Lacey Perry, Senior Vice President and Tucson Market Executive, listen to nonprofit leaders and connect them to local and national funding, resources, and best practices. Through Neighborhood Builders, the company pairs flexible grants with leadership development so organizations grow stronger over time.

Bank of America's 250 Tucson employees give time as well as dollars. With paid volunteer time and workplace giving support, they have contributed 33,800 volunteer hours since 2020, including hours at the Community Food Bank that helped produce about 386,000 emergency food boxes.

OUTSTANDING PHILANTHROPIST

MAX MCCAUSLIN & JOHN SMITH

Max McCauslin and John Smith are happy to be back in Tucson.

Max grew up in the Midwest and first came to Tucson to study business at the University of Arizona. He went on to a career as a CPA with EY, living and working in New York, Spain, and Latin America before retiring.

John moved to Tucson with his family before his teens. He earned a B.S. from the University of Arizona and a Ph.D. in biology from the University of Virginia, and he still works as a biomedical researcher at the university.

They chose midtown for its closeness to campus and easy access to downtown venues. They both enjoy living in Tucson and supporting its cultural organizations.

Their giving includes the Loft Cinema, home of the Loft Film Festival, which recently expanded and remodeled. At the University of Arizona, they support the Poetry Center and the Center for Creative Photography. They also back Arizona Friends of Chamber Music, Rogue Theater, and the Tucson Museum of Art.

They are especially glad to have encouraged and funded new balcony handrails at both the Rialto and Fox theatres.

Max and John believe that no matter the size of the gift, you can make a real difference by supporting charities in Southern Arizona.

OUTSTANDING FOUNDATION PHILANTHROPIST

STONE CANYON COMMUNITY FOUNDATION

The mission of The Stone Canyon Community Foundation, in partnership with the Community Foundation for Southern Arizona, is to support non-profit organizations focusing on positively impacting educational success and quality of life of youth-in-need within the greater Tucson area. The Foundation was created in 2008 by a few Stone Canyon families wanting to make a meaningful difference in the lives of underserved youth. Today, over 125 families actively support the work of the Foundation. The Grants Committee is the heart of the Foundation, annually reviewing an increasing number of grant applications, performing a rigorous selection process to award grants to the most deserving 20-30 non-profit organizations. Since its founding, the Foundation has provided nearly $5 million in grants to Tucson area non-profits supporting a wide range of educational, social and developmental programs for disadvantaged youth. In addition to the grant work, the Foundation provides educational opportunities to increase awareness and educate Stone Canyon members on the tremendous non-profit organizations who are doing the important work of helping youth-in-need in our community. The Foundation's goal is to provide much needed grants now, and also strengthen our ability, through the creation of a Legacy fund, to continue supporting our community non-profits well into the future.

STONE CANYON COMMUNITY FOUNDATION

EMPOWERING YOUTH TO ACHIEVE THEIR DREAMS!

OUTSTANDING VOLUNTEER FUNDRAISER

DONAL DRAYNE

Born and raised in Northern Ireland, Donal Drayne learned the meaning of service growing up on his family's dairy farm. Farm life meant long days, shared responsibilities and the understanding that every person had a role to play. Those lessons shaped Donal's art of connecting and instilled this simple philosophy: "We are no better than anybody else."

While building a career with Westin Hotels, Donal transferred to Tucson, where he spent 28 years as the Catering Manager at The Westin La Paloma Resort & Spa. His godchildren, Ryan and Courtney, became the reason he stayed in Tucson and remain an enduring inspiration for his commitment.

For decades, Donal has given his time, energy and talent to organizations throughout Southern Arizona, including TMC Health and its Foundation, the Catholic Foundation for the Diocese of Tucson, The Salvation Army and the American Heart Association. Whether raising funds, chairing an event or simply doing whatever needs to be done, he brings the values of the farm with him: "play the game," "park the drama" and, especially when challenges arise, "take the high road."

For Donal, volunteer fundraising is about people, not recognition. It means listening, building relationships and helping others discover why a cause matters to them. His gift is making people feel welcome, valued and inspired to participate.

The farm taught Donal that a community works best when everyone contributes. Decades later, that simple lesson continues to define his service.

OUTSTANDING FUNDRAISING EXECUTIVE

MONIQUE VALLERY

Monique Vallery is the Regional Philanthropy Senior Partner for the American Red Cross in Arizona, where she leads strategic donor engagement and mobilizes philanthropic support to advance the organization's mission of providing compassionate care during times of crisis. A Tucson native with deep roots in community service, Monique brings more than 17 years of nonprofit leadership and fundraising experience to her role.

Before joining the Red Cross, Monique served with the Southern Arizona AIDS Foundation for more than a decade, championing programs centered on health equity, community wellness, and expanding critical resources for vulnerable populations. Her career has been defined by her commitment to strengthening community resilience and ensuring equitable access to lifesaving services.

Beyond her professional work, Monique is deeply engaged in community leadership. She serves as the Board Chair for Homicide Survivors, Inc., providing guidance and advocacy for families navigating unimaginable loss. She is also a Victim Impact Advocate with Mothers Against Drunk Driving (MADD), where she shares her voice to promote healing, accountability, and safer communities.

Known for her collaborative leadership style and passion for meaningful change, Monique is inspired daily by the volunteers, donors, and partners who help make the Red Cross mission possible.

Outside of her professional and volunteer commitments, Monique loves spending time with her wife, her children, and her grandson — the heart of her world.

ABOUT THIS YEAR'S AWARDS

THE RUSTED DESERT

The Rusted Desert is a metalwork studio in Tucson, AZ making steel wall art and sculpture rooted in the forms of the Sonoran Desert. Every piece starts as raw steel in their Tucson shop. Working, from the saguaros, wildlife, and landscape of the desert, they translate these forms into sculptures from accent pieces to substantial freestanding work that is cut, formed welded and finished by hand.

We are grateful to The Rusted Desert for creating these unique awards specially for National Philanthropy Day!
